

THE STORY OF REVEREND CALDWELL

The Historic Caldwell Parsonage, Union, N. J.

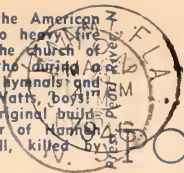

← Caldwell's Presbyterian Church, Springfield, N. J.

Pub. by Nathan H. Weinstein, 2426 Morris Ave., Union, N. J.

Caldwell's Presbyterian Church
Springfield, N. J.

During the Battle of Springfield in the American Revolution this church was subjected to heavy fire and is known all over the country as the church of the militant parson, James Caldwell, who during a shortage of gun wadding ran out with hymnals and uttered his famous remark, "Give 'em Watts, boys!"

The Parsonage, Union, N. J. (1782) original building, burned by the British after murder of Hannah Caldwell, wife of Rev. James Caldwell, killed by British soldier, June 7, 1780.

POST CARD

Dear friend... Here is card for the one you sent... I like to swap 6 at a time unused..

Sincerely,
Nathan Weinstein
2426 Morris Ave
Union, N. J.

Catherine E. Allen
A 3/c
~~Robert Clay Hotel~~
~~Room 510~~
~~Miami 4, Florida..~~

49 Pleasant St
Woodstock, Verm

Colorcraft - Made by The Dexter Press Plant